Public Open Night at Cinder Peak

Cinder Peak Observatory | Outreach desk

Cinder Peak Observatory invites the public to an open night on Saturday 13 June 2026. Doors open at 21:30 local time (BST) on the visitor terrace, and the evening ends at 00:30. Visitors will tour the dome and look through the new 1.2-metre telescope, weather permitting. Entry is free, but places are limited and must be booked in advance with the observatory's outreach desk (outreach@cinderpeak.example).

Bring warm clothing: the terrace is unheated and exposed. If the sky is overcast the tour of the dome goes ahead and the telescope session is replaced by a talk in the visitor room.
